The main area of risk with respect to slavery and trafficking is through our supply chain. We try to ensure that all our regular suppliers are committed to ensuring that their supply chain does not tolerate any forms of slavery or human trafficking. When sourcing materials and equipment we endeavour to use suppliers', who have stated their commitment to and have the same approach as C-VIGIL Ltd : marine (CVM) to this unacceptable practice.

This policy sets out our stance on modern slavery and demonstrates our commitment to ensure there is no presence of it in our business operations. It identifies the need for due diligence during recruitment and encourages our employees to identify any concerns they may have on this subject confidentially. It also shows our level of scrutiny when dealing with suppliers whether that be in the form of materials or provision of services. We will not knowingly support or deal with any business involved in slavery or human trafficking.

As part of our QA procedures C-VIGIL Ltd : marine (CVM) maintains a preferred supplier list. We try to ensure that our suppliers have subsequent anti-slavery policies, which they in turn ensure their suppliers conform to, before they become a preferred supplier.
